

Symphonette Plans Concert

The CPS Chamber Orchestra will make its first public appearance as a concert group Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the recital hall of the music building.

The orchestra was first organized two years ago, but until now, it has served as accompanist to the choral groups.

Melvin Sipe, conductor of the orchestra, has selected for the program Friday, the Christmas Concerto of Corelli, Symphony No. 5 of Boyce, Vivaldi's Concerto No. 6 and two compositions by contemporary Americans: "The Winter's Passed," by Wayne Barlowe and the closing presentation, "Sonata Allegro," by John Cowell of the CPS music faculty. Cowell will be the guest conductor for his own composition.

APPEARING in the Christmas vespers production of "One Night in Bethlehem" are (left to right) Rick Franzen, Larry Heggerness, Jaclyn Carmichael, A Wee Campus Playcrafter, Scott Strode and Doug Brown. The play, presented annually by the Campus Playcrafters, will be given Sunday at 4 p.m. and in convocation next Tuesday.

Home Economics Plans Yule Party

The annual Christmas tea, sponsored by the home economics club, will be held next Tuesday from 3 to 5 p.m. in the home ec dining room. Traditional Christmas cookies and spicy punch will be served.

Marjorie Fish, president of the home ec club, invites the faculty, students and their parents and all friends of CPS.

All departments of the home ec club are participating in the arrangements of the tea. The related arts class, under the chairmanship of Barbara Marzano and Marilyn Siska, will plan the decorations and send the invitations. The cooking class, under the chairmanship of Marilyn Larsen and Lois Hagmann, will make the refreshments.

Four Orators Win in Contest

Top prizes of $20 were awarded to Joan Wandesforde and Dwight Faust, best woman and man orators, in the annual Burmeister oratorical contest held Nov. 29. Second place awards of $10 went to Jackie Carmichael and John Mitchell.

This year's contest was the largest in CPS history, with over 150 entrants. The field was reduced by student judges to 25 semi-finalists, who were then judged by members of the faculty.

This contest has been made possible for the last 35 years by A. O. Burmeister, a well-known Tacoma attorney.

French Club to Meet

French club will hold its first meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the McCormick room of the library.

CPS Sororities to Combine In Christmas Party, Caroling

Members and pledges of CPS's four sororities will join in a Panhellenic Christmas party starting at 7 p.m. Thursday in the SUB. Each coed will bring a gift for a Goodwill Industries worker or their children.

Coordinating the event are Sue Ellertson, Alpha Phi; Madalyn Rathbun, Chi Omega; Sue Kohler, Delta Delta Delta; June Baker, Pi Beta Phi.

Gifts will be placed in the SUB lounge under a Christmas

Denton, Whisler Will Head RE Week Plans

Harvey Denton and Jean Whisler have been chosen by Student Christian council as co-chairmen for this year's Religious Emphasis week, scheduled for Feb. 25-March 1.

A senior pre-theology student, Denton is from Port Orchard. Miss Whisler, a junior majoring in business administration, hails from Vancouver.

Long-Awaited Pool Dedication Ceremonies, Student-Planned Water Show to Be Jan. 4

Dedication ceremonies for CPS's new Hugh B. Wallace Memorial swimming pool are scheduled for 2 p.m., Jan. 4, Pool Director Horace Butterfield announced.

A student-planned water show will follow the ceremonies. In charge of the project is Jeri Keene. Assisting her are Kathy Bartell and Bob Newton.

A schedule of operation for the pool, which will go into effect Jan. 1, has been announced. Classes for credit do not begin until Jan. 28, but students planning to enroll for credit classes are urged to begin attending Jan. 7. No extra charge will be made for the early start.

Pool Manager Don Duncan

Weyerhaeuser Dies

J. P. Weyerhaeuser Jr., 57, died of leukemia Saturday. He was a member of the Board of Trustees at CPS. Weyerhaeuser was the president of the huge lumber company that bears the Weyerhaeuser name.

Bursar Gerard Banks stated that "Mr. Weyerhaeuser has been a great friend of CPS. His passing is a deep personal loss to the president, the trustees and the staff."

tree furnished and decorated by Panhellenic. Friday the gifts will be picked up and distributed at a Goodwill Industries Christmas party.

Since there are more sorority members than Goodwill workers, some girls will bring toys which will be donated to Pierce County Welfare.

After refreshments, the sorority girls will serenade with Christmas carols CPS President R. Franklin Thompson, Dean John Regester, Dean of Men Raymond Powell, Dean of Women Frances Swayze and CPS's six fraternities.

SCC Plans Party

The Student Christian council Christmas party will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. Franklin Thompson from 7 to 10 p.m. Sunday.

Included in the program are several caroling parties and a Christmas worship service.

urged anyone planning to sign up for classes, faculty and staff members, and students without activity cards to see him as soon as possible. Duncan's office is in the basement of the women's gym, first door to the right.

College courses to be offered next semester include beginning, intermediate and advanced for men and women and a water safety instructor course. Classes are limited in enrollment, Duncan stressed.

Choir to Carol From Yacht

Christmas caroling aboard the yacht Thea Foss by the CPS Adelpian choir under the direction of Dr. Bruce Rodgers, head of the school of music, is scheduled for Dec. 21. The annual event is sponsored by Henry Foss of the Foss Launch & Tug Co., and the Tacoma News Tribune.

The boat will leave the Foss dock at 5 p.m., and caroling will be presented at various points in commencement Bay including Old Town, Point Defiance Picnic Beach, Browns Point and Dash Point.

During the evening two short wave radio broadcasts will be heard over KTNT. The 30 passengers will have dinner aboard the vessel and will return to the Foss dock around 10 p.m.

The preceding evening the same type of program will be presented by the Pacific Lutheran college choir. They are scheduled to sing at Steilacoom, Day Island, Gig Harbor, Salmon Beach, Point Defiance Picnic Beach and Tahlequah.

Construction Begins On Two New Dorms

Contracts have been signed and construction has officially started on CPS's new dorms, Bursar Gerard Banks reports. Completion is expected in time for "fall occupancy" in 1957.

Dirt from the excavations is being dumped in No. 17th St. The street was vacated by the city of Tacoma earlier this year by request of the college and by consent of the adjoining property owners. The college plans to level the dirt over the two vacant lots from No. 16th to No. 18th Sts. adjoining Lawrence St.

Playcrafters to Present Yule Vespers, 'Night in Bethlehem'

A mother telling her little boy the Christmas story is the theme of this year's Christmas play, "One Night in Bethlehem." The play, written by Katherine S. Brown and Glenna Smith Tinnin, will be presented twice before Christmas vacation.

It will be presented at the Christmas vesper program Sunday at 4 p.m., and again next Tuesday during convocation. Freshmen are also invited to this performance.

Taking part in the program are Velma Jean Lienes, Barbara Keevil, Scott Strode, Jaclyn Carmichael, Bob Newton, John Mitchell, Tom Martin, and Colleen Laing.

Also in the cast are Rita Erickson, Jim Grassman, Joan Wandesforde, George Swayze, Larry Heggerness, Ken Marsolais, Bob Kinch, Shelly Gerarden, Ross Trunkey, Terry Jones and Wee Campus Playcrafter Dennis Dale.

The Choral Readers will perform as the "multitude of heavenly hosts." "One Night in Bethlehem" is the traditional Christmas story. A mother tells her son the Christmas story, the scene fades out, and the audience is transported to ancient Bethlehem. Tiras, the innkeeper has no more room in his inn. When Mary and Joseph come, they are forced to stay in the manger. The little inn-boy is transfixed by Mary and offers to watch over her.

The inn-boy learns that Mary is to give birth to the Son of God. He is unhappy because he has no gift to bring to the Christ child; but in the end, it is the little boy who leads the three Kings to Jesus.

$400 Given For Hungary

CPS students opened their hearts and their pocketbooks to Hungarian refugees from Soviet terror Nov. 18-21.

CPS students, in a four-day campaign, collected $400 for Hungarian relief. The project was sponsored by ASCPS and directed by Naomi Scruton.

The Hungarian drive was divided into several committees. Shoeshining in Todd hall was directed by Darlene Townsend; Nancy Eastman was in charge of the candied-apple sale; International Relations club sold sandwiches, and the Vets club conducted a class-to-class money-collecting campaign. Booths were set up in Jones hall and the SUB for contributions, and Knights and Spurs gave out red, green and white ribbons (Hungarian national colors) to donors.

IRC Collects Clothing For Hungarian Relief

The International Relations club "Klothes Keg" proved to be a successful venture as two barrels of usable warm clothing were contributed by the student body for the Hungarian clothing drive.

The clothes collected by IRC will be turned over to the International Rescue committee for distribution in Hungary. "Speaking for the club, I would like to thank everybody for their wonderful donations," IRC president Carolyn Solberg asserted.

Rally Comm. Sponsors Post-Game Mixer

A five-cent "Soc Hop" will be sponsored by Rally committee after the Dec. 15 basketball game with Willamette. Music for the dance in the girl's gym will be by "R. E. Cord," Rally committee officers said.

The success of this dance will determine committee plans for future dances after home games. Out-of-town schools have planned similar dances for CPS students who attend away games.

Sally Kalhagen to Represent CPS in Bowl Queen Contest

Sally Kalhagen has been chosen CPS's candidate for Alumnum Bowl Queen. Miss Kalhagen was selected Friday evening from 18 other CPS coeds. Two candidates were nominated by each fraternity, sorority and independent group. A candidate could also be nominated by a petition signed by at least 20 students.

Miss Kalhagen is a freshman and a pledge of Pi Beta Phi sorority. She is a Tacoma resident and attended Clover Park high school. She represented Clover Park in the May day festivities at CPS last spring.

Miss Kalhagen's picture will be sent to Hollywood, where a panel of movie stars will select the queen and princesses out of the 32 contestants entered from different colleges all over the United States. The winner will be sent by plane, all expenses paid, to Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 22, for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The winner will also receive prizes, national publicity and a gala parade.

Cecil Bell headed the selection committee. Others on the committee were Nina Ellington, Bob Newton, Jim Hamill, Sylvia Crowe, Ken Marsolais and Gayle Taylor.

farewell to a tradition . . .

Listen, my children;
Hear my rendition
of how CPS
Lost a tradition.

Once upon a time, CPS had a tradition. It was called the hatchet. For some unexplainable reason, each class, during its four-year sojourn in these ivy-covered walls, possessed a desire to add its class numerals to the others engarved on the hatchet. The class in possession, of course, periodically taunted the other classes with obscure clues and glimpses of the battered tool. From a strictly logical viewpoint, the tradition verged on the lunatic, but as a promoter of class spirit it was most effective.

With a few gaps, the tradition of the hatchet has continued from 1908 to the present. This fall, however, the class of '60 managed to acquire the tradition-bound tool. In acquiring the hatchet the freshmen displayed commendable enterprise, but in showing it they have displayed condemnable lethargy. Since the freshmen evidently plan to hide the hatchet for the next four years, they might as well give it back to the carpenters. They will have more use for it than any CPS student.

To the student body of CPS, to the committee members who worked on CPS's Hungarian aid drive, and especially to Chairman Naomi Scruton, the Trail offers its congratulations. The success of the drive is all the more meaningful when one realizes that it was organized in only two days and carried out in only four. For generous giving and for spontaneous cooperation, the Trail again says "congratulations."

GREEK ROW

By BETTE BIRKLAND

Pi Phis and their dates assembled at the home of Pat Frazer for a Christmas Fireside last Friday evening. Recently Pat announced her engagement to Tom Seaman of WSC. Pledge Sue Wilson is pinned to Kappa Sigma Herb Seiler.

Sigma Chis have elected new officers for the winter and spring term. They are: Dick Shorten, Consul; Don Moller, Proconsul; Warren Wotton, Annotator; Doug Brown, Quaestor; Robert Larsen, Tribune; Dennis Fusco, Editor; Gerry Banks, Historian; Cecil Bell and John Damitio, Kustos. These officers will serve until April.

The annual Alpha Phi-Sigma Chi Pledge dance was held Nov. 17 at Titlow Community Center. Everyone was arrayed in a costume depicting voyages through many colorful countries of the world. Co-chairmen for the event were Elaine Johnson and Allen Reinhart.

Lloyd Filkins was elected president of Phi Delta Theta for the spring term Sunday evening. Other new Phi Delt officers are Paul Llewellyn, secretary; Chuck Mallary, warden; Dick Nelson, historian; Wes Miller, chaplain; Darrell Kammer, chorister; Lee McFarlane, librarian; Les Snyder, assistant treasurer.

CPS Phi Delt's are looking forward to their winter formal Friday evening and their annual underprivileged children's Christmas party Sunday. In charge of the Christmas party are Ed Elliott and Larry Jones. Sigma Nu pledges were granted a "Turnabout Day" recently. Each member was expected to carry out all of the pledge's duties. Sigma Nus entertained the Chi Os at a fireside Dec. 3.

Chi Omegas held their Christmas dance at Brown's point Saturday evening. Entertained in the Chi O room Wednesday were the Kappa Sigs.

Kappa Sigma and Pi Phis will join together for a skating party Saturday at Lakewood after the game. Warren Perry is now co-advisor along with Dr. Robert Sprenger for the fraternity. The Founders Day banquet was held in Seattle Dec. 7. Attending were 14 members.

IN THIS CORNER

An open letter to the President of the Freshman class.

Dear Chuck;

Since I came to this campus in the fall of 1953, I have seen a good many events which we all come to know as campus traditions. These traditions, to many people, seem like a ridiculous waste of time but they are usually the ones who never participated.

One of these traditions, the hatchet, has probably meant more to the building up and strengthening of class spirit than has any other single item of our college experience. As soon as we arrived on campus, the class of 1957 tasted the desire to possess the hatchet, and we rapidly learned the arts of good organization and effective cooperation between people so that we could join "the hunt." Every other class, until now, has experienced this same process of being introduced to campus life and our wonderful traditions.

Freshmen Get Hatchet

A few weeks ago your class, in the true spirit of the hatchet tradition, won the much sought-after hatchet. No one has tried to belittle your accomplishment nor than am I here. It was won fairly and squarely, but you have not continued with the tradition in the same spirit with which you took it.

Apparently you are attempting to kill the tradition and the meaning it has had to class enthusiasm by almost never showing it. It won't be long until you will be able to flash it anywhere and no one will really care.

Could Lose Tradition

What about next year's freshmen? Do you expect them to have the same hatchet fever which we gave to you if the tradition is lost for four years? Classes before you have faced the possibility of having the hatchet for several years but have realized that they had a responsibility to keep the tradition alive. Perhaps you don't even care. Once before, a class buried the hatchet for four years, and it was a miracle that the carpenters didn't get it back because no one else had any use for it.

I hope your class will not allow that situation to recur. Your actions will speak louder than your words.

Yours truly—LEROY CALBOM, President of Senior Class.

CPS Sets Scoring Record to Beat Pacific U; Hosts Pacific Lutheran Hoopsters Tonight

The Logger basketball squad made it two in a row over Pacific University's Badgers Monday evening, chalking up an 86-69 victory. The win brought the Loggers' season record to two wins and two losses.

Big contributors to the CPS attack were junior guard Don Moseid and yearling Jerry Thacker, who hit the hoop for 17 and 14 points, respectively.

The Loggers jumped into an early lead and maintained a comfortable margin all the way as the Oregonians had trouble finding the range in the first half.

Crowd Gets Thrill

The Loggers gave Friday night's crowd a thrill as they scored a 101-89 victory over the Badgers from Forest Grove, Ore. It was a see-saw affair throughout most of the second half.

Pacific held eight-point leads twice during the first half but the Loggers closed the gap and forged ahead 47-46 at half-time. The Badgers tied the game at 63 all, but then the Loggers grabbed the lead for good.

Don Moseid did the honors for the Loggers as he sank the 100th and 101st points of the game to establish a new scoring record for the Loggers. Previous high was 90 points scored against Seattle U four years ago in a losing, 102-90 battle.

Moseid Leads Scorers

Moseid led the Loggers scorers with 18 points getting most of them during the last two minutes of play. Bob Bafus had 17 while centers Frank Olsen and Ed Bowman had 14 markers apiece.

Skiers Call Meeting

There will be a meeting Wednesday noon in Howarth 215 for anyone interested in participating on the 1956-57 CPS ski team. Dr. Robert Sprenger, advisor, will give further information at that time.

Frankly Speaking

With RON FRANK

Will the Logger basketball team be better than last year? That's the question uppermost in the minds of many CPS fans since the season opened two weeks ago. Last Friday night's game against Pacific University may have given some answers as Loggers rang up 101 points.

An affirmative answer must be given to the question of whether the Loggers will show improvement. Coach John Heinrick's squad seems to be improved with better marksmanship, more speed and better determination in evidence in the home opener.

Coach Heinrick is well stocked with guards even without Erle Tallman, three-year letterman, who is out for the season with a bum knee. Don Moseid, junior transfer from Seattle University, heads the list because of his sharpshooting eye and general court ability. Lettermen Ron Brown, Dick Ballard, Ken Palmer and Tom Names will be seeing action at the guard spots.

Freshman Jerry Thacker, all-state from Port Townsend, showed tremendous scoring ability in racking up 16 points against Pacific U as well as possessing unusual coolness and poise for a freshman. Isadore Washington is another freshman who might help.

The big question concerning the outcome of the season is the play among the big men. Bob Bafus, Ed Bowman, Frank Olsen and John Barnett are showing well.

They could be the key to the Logger situation if they can play consistently.

It's Civil War time again tonight!

The College of Puget Sound Loggers and the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators do battle once again on the basketball maples of the CPS Fieldhouse tonight at 8 p.m. The game does not count in the Evergreen conference standings but will count in the city collegiate series race.

Dark Record

CPS's fortunes against the Lutherans during the past three years have been somewhat on the dark side. The Loggers have not tasted victory since December, 1953, when they won 65-64 in a thriller. Since that time the Loggers have lost eight straight to the Lutes.

The Lutes are led by two all-conference sophomores in the persons of guard Roger Iverson and 6-5 forward Chuck Curtis. Iverson led the Lutes Saturday night against Pacific U as he tossed in 16 points. Against St. Martins Wednesday, the "Rajah" pumped in 20. Other top point getters are guard Jack Sinderson and forward Jim Van Beek.

Lutes Beat Pacific

As far as score comparisons the Lutes dumped Pacific 69-58 while the Loggers set a new scoring record in beating the Badgers 101-89. The Lutes beat Central while the Loggers lost to the Wildcats and both have dropped spirited decisions to the Buchan Bakers.

Little All-America Grid Rating Goes to Guard Bob Mitchell

Bob Mitchell's bid for Little All-American rating became a reality Thursday when the Logger guard received word of his selection by the Associated Press. Mitchell was selected by writers across the country as one of two top guards in the nation.

The 6 ft.-233-pounder was a standout performer for the Loggers all-year long as well as in his three previous seasons of play. His performances were so impressive that the San Francisco 49ers drafted him at the end of his junior year of play. Mitchell will be in San Francisco this week-end to talk turkey with the 49er moguls.

"Mitch" was twice named to the Evergreen conference team. Named along with the Logger guard this year by the coaches was Fullback Bob Austin, one of the leading ground gainers of the league this fall. Austin is a transfer from the University of Washington whose play on defense has merited much praise from both writers and coaches.

Freshman halfback Larry Kelly was named to the second team of the conference and received honorable mention on the Little All-American. Kelly was co-captain along with Mitchell for the Loggers. Others named to the second team of the conference were end Phil Yant, tackle Jack Bolton and quarterback Dick Jarvis.

Honorable mention plaudits went to end Herb Richey, center Rich Hammermaster, and halfback Don Parsons.

Shooters May Form CPS Pistol Team

Students interested in forming a CPS pistol team should contact Norman Clowers in the building and grounds office during the day or at his home during the evening.

CPS may enter a team in a league tournament at Point Defiance the last of January, Clowers said. Competition will be indoors only and .22 caliber only. Physical education credit will probably be offered for pistol team members, he added.

Competitors must furnish their own gun, ammunition and targets, Clowers stated. In addition they must pay a league registration fee and join the National Rifle association.

Paintings from Seattle Show Highlight December Exhibit

Featured in the Jones hall art galleries during the final week of the December exhibit is a selection of paintings from the big "Forty-Second Northwest Annual," a show held each fall at the Seattle Art Museum.

The December exhibit, which opened last Tuesday, closes next Tuesday. Galleries are open from 1 to 5 very afternoon.

The Seattle show is an open competition for painters and sculptors of the region, and is the most important of its kind for this area. While space limitations in the CPS galleries have made it necessary to narrow the selection down to but a fraction of the Seattle exhibit, most of the top award-winning entries and all Tacoma work have been included.

It is an opportunity to see what artists of this region are doing, and CPS students should be especially interested in the painting by CPS Professor Robert Feasley which is included in the show.

The art department show cases exhibit work by students in the department's design classes.

Debate Squad Talks Way to Honors At California Forensics Tournament

The CPS forensic squad last week spent three days debating in the Western Association of Teachers of Speech tournament at Stockton, Calif. The tourney held Nov. 29-31 at Stockton Junior College and College of the Pacific, included 540 students from 37 colleges and universities.

Participants from CPS included Jerry Flanagan, Sheila Ryan, Winnie Hertzog, Sarah McClure, Spencer Stokes, John Keliher,

Among those on the CPS team winning recognition were Keliher, first place in senior men's discussion; Misses Flanagan and Ryan, who shared third place in senior women's debate, and Sherwood, third place in the final round of junior men's extemporaneous speaking.

Reaching semi-finals in junior women's extemporaneous speaking were Misses Hertzog and McClure, and Stokes qualified for the semi-finals in senior men's extemporaneous speaking.

Certificates of excellence were awarded to each member of the CPS debate team.

Science Department Schedules Movies

CPS's science departments have scheduled science movies to be shown Tuesday at 10 a.m. and again Thursday at 10 a.m. in Howart hall room 215. Films being shown this week are "The World That Nature Forgot" and "Lifetime Protection."

Dr. Martin Nelson, physics department head, announced there will be films in January on such subjects as the Bikini radio biology lab and supersonic wind tunnels. More films will be scheduled next semester if student interest is adequate.

These movies have been scheduled during convocation, but they do not constitute an excuse from convocation attendance since they are slated for

Panhellenic to Open Rush Registration

Registration for spring sorority rush will open Jan. 3 and continue through Jan. 11, 6 p.m. in the Panhellenic office in the SUB, Panhellenic Pres. Carol Beeken announced.

Spring rush for CPS's four sororities will begin Jan. 28 and continue through Jan. 31, she added.

To be eligible for rushing, a coed must have paid a $2 rush registration fee and must have a 2.0 cumulative grade point average.

Sorority Aids Cardiacs

Alpha Phis will bring toys to their Christmas party Monday to be sent to a children's hospital for rheumatic heart patients. The party will be held at Doris Zoebel's home.

"Little hearts need big hearts" is the motto of the Alpha Phi cardiac aid for children program. The national sorority sends funds to heart hospitals to aid disease research.

Kord Kings Return

The Kord Kings, popular CPS male quartet now singing professionally as the Saints, will return to their home town of Everett Dec. 23 to perform a benefit show. Tickets may be obtained from Janet Joy.
